OLD BOY ATTRIBUTES HIS HEALTH TO GOOD CARE

Dr. Carr, Bloomington, Ill.

Among the ex-Terre Hauteans who will be here during the Old Boys' Reunion will be Dr. Carr, of Bloomington, Ill., who left this city in 1868 for the Sucker state. He was born in 1845 at the corner of Fourth and Walnut streets. He is among the most enthusiastic of the Old Boys.

Dr. Carr has a unique record among men. He has never touched a cup of coffee or tea, has never touched an intoxicant of any sort, has never used tobacco in any form, and does not drink water except between meals. He attributes his good health and vitality to the fact that he has always taken scrupulous care of himself. He is now one of the leading practitioners of Bloomington.

Thanks for your letter of June 23rd with S.A.S.E. but I am returning the envelope since it wasn't large enough to contain the copies.

This library does not have any information about a John Carr who married Naomi Smith except for the brief account in part C of p. 585 of Hunt's Pound and Kester Families. I know that I have sent you copies from that book but since I do not know whether I sent p. 585 I am sending it in this letter. Then you should read the copy of the 1969 letter from Walter Wayne Miller of Greensburg KY that contradicts part of "C" of p. 585. You could try writing Mr. Miller and see what sources he was using. You might also try to contact Carr descendants. I only know of one i.e. Steve Blair, 321 W. Giles St., Sullivan IN 47882 and he might not know about the veracity of Hunt's p. 585. Or, you could place a free 50 word query in the local newspaper. To do so write Genealogy, The Tribune-Star, Box 149 c/o Dorothy J. Clark, Terre Haute IN 47808. The John Carrs that lived and are buried in Vigo county did not have a wife named Naomi. Their wives were Sarah, Emma, and Mary.

I did check Dorothy Clark's article in the newspaper of Sep. 20, 1992 and also the preceding and following issues but these were a "hodgepodge" of brief biographies. None of these were expanded upon in preceding or subsequent columns.

I am, however, sending you a considerable amount on George Hampton and William D. Jones especially census records and plat maps and obituaries and a little that was available from the county histories.

Jones' only survivors were two second cousins of his deceased wife. His farm was in Sec. 27 of Riley twp. His Oak Hill cemetery record says he died at age 60 y. but actually he was 80 since he died in 1901.

There is more biographical material on G. F. Hampton especially in his obituary. He moved to 814 S. 4th St., Terre Haute and died there in 1893. Though remodeled, that house still stands and belongs to my neighbor, Phil Ramponi. My home is the house at 900 S. 4th, which is about 200 feet away. Mr. Hampton's farm was in Sec. 11 of Linton twp.

Today's photocopies and postage come to $3.44. I hope this information helps, if not, specifically what else would you need?

Dear Mr. Lewis,

Once again I am writing to ask for your help in regard to early Vigo County residents.

Do you have any biographical information about John Carr and his wife, Naomi Smyth Carr. They were early settlers in Vigo County: One daughter, Elizabeth, married Joseph P. Jefferies on Dec. 6, 1843. I am especially hoping you may be able to provide me with the names of Naomi Smith Carr's parents and siblings. They were married in Vigo Co. 1818-1820.

No, Mary E. Carr was not John Carr's first wife but there are some records that indicate John Carr married a wife, Naomi Smith Carr.

Dorothy J. Clark, in her Valley Heritage column of the Sept 20, 1992 Tribune-Star Sunday paper, gave very brief biographical sketches of George F. Hampton and William D. Jones. I do not subscribe to the Tribune, so I do not know if Ms. Clark expanded on these brief sketches at a later date. This below is what appeared in the Sept 20th article:

George F. Hampton - born 1821 in Fauquier County, Va - settled in Linton Twp., Vigo Co. in 1855. He was a farmer for many years and later engaged in the transportation business in Terre Haute.

William D. Jones - born 1821 in Butler County, Ohio. Moved to Indiana in 1828. Came to Vigo County in 1844 from Tippecanoe County, Indiana. He was a farmer.

Any material you could provide me will be greatly appreciated. I will remit promptly any fee for this information.

Please note the change in my address. This new address is a permanent one.

I hope all is well for you and that you can help me on my enquiries.

Sincerely,

COLLATERAL FAMILIES.

C.

CARR.—John Carr and Moses Carr, who married Rebecca Kester, were brothers. John Carr married Naomi Smith, daughter of Reuben Smith, and had eight children: Ruth married David P. Boyll; Naomi married Joel H. Kester; Nancy married Thomas Pound; Mercy married Ferg Snoddy; Elizabeth married Joseph P. Tichenor; Ellen married Josephus Thomas; Moses married Polly Gunn; and John married Sarah Bently and Mary Zigler.

D.

DRAKE—James (or John Drake) had six children, as follows: John had a son William, who married Sarah Liston, and a son James, and probably another son, it being said that this William had two brothers who moved to the vicinity of Galena, Illinois, about 1825; Moses, born in 1765, married Elizabeth Pound; James, born in Pennsylvania in 1778, married Sarah Paddock; Tobitha married White; Polly married Blue; and Hannah was not married. Manning Drake, son of James and Sarah (Paddock) Drake above named, born July 17, 1813, now residing at Fairbanks, Indiana, gives the above information and says that this Drake family were originally from Virginia.

F.

FERGUSON—Elizabeth Lacock, who about 1761 married William Kester (born 1733), by her first husband, ——— Ferguson, had a son, ——— Ferguson, who had the following children: Thomas Ferguson married Elizabeth Lee; Athel Ferguson married ——— ——— and then Rebecca (Paddock) Payne, widow of Elijah Payne; Nancy Ferguson married Ebenezer Paddock; Sarah Ferguson married Boggs and lived in Ohio; Elizabeth Ferguson married Chambers. Most of these people lived in Vigo County, Indiana.

H.

HUNT—Absalom Hunt was born in Guilford County, North Carolina, January 9, 1796, died December 4, 1846. Was adopted when a few years old by Samuel Milliken. Moved to Sullivan County, Indiana, in 1817, and to Vigo County in 1829. Was a son of Phineas Hunt and Elizabeth and a descendant of Nathan Hunt, who came to America probably from England or Scotland about 1725. The family were originally Quakers. Absalom Hunt married, March 23, 1819, Mary Elliott, daughter of Peter and Rachel (Pickett) Elliott, born in Randolph County, North Carolina, November 26, 1798, died September 8, 1842, and had eleven children: Millican Hunt, born July 29, 1821, married Nancy Ann Reed; John Elliott Hunt, born November 26, 1822, died April 13, 1893, married Eunice Reed; Jane Hunt, born April 27, 1824, married Calvin Thomas; Eleazer Hunt, born November 29, 1825, died December 23, 1825; Elizabeth Hunt, born March 1, 1827, died December 6, 1848, married Benjamin Lee; Zimri Hunt, born December 12, 1829, died January 1, 1897, married Nancy Pound and Lucinda Pound; David Franklin Hunt, born April 27, 1831, died November 27, 1861, married Nancy J. Our information on Chauncey R. Carr is scanty and confusing also. Two county histories credit him with laying out the town of Youngstown but give different dates for the event. There is a Carr Street in Youngstown.

He is only listed in two city directories, 1864 and 1868. Copies are enclosed. No doubt he was in Terre Haute in other years but was listed with his family. We have indexed the 1860 Vigo county census, and I soon found Chauncey Carr listed with a 67 year old Mary Carr. In 1850 he was in the household of Moses C. and Mary Carr. Our early Vigo county marriage records show that Moses C. Carr and Mary Gunn were married in December 1835. Chauncey Carr is not listed in our later marriage records.

According to our books of Vigo county cemetery records, Moses and Mary Carr died before the 1860 census. But who was the 67 year old Mary with whom the Carr children lived in 1860? She was probably a relative, but I didn't find any mention of a Mary that age. Chauncey Carr is not listed in the cemetery records.

It looks as though he might have left this area completely. I checked the indexes to the 1880 and 1900 Indiana censuses but did not find him. The 1880 index only includes families who had children age ten or younger. I wonder if he might have gone to Illinois. Bradsby's History mentions a Moses Carr who died 14 Dec. 1849 in Clark county IL. From information in the Pound and Kester Families, I believe that Moses was Chauncey's great uncle.

Volume four of Report of the Adjutant General of the State of Indiana, 1861-1865 gives the roster of the 76th Regiment. They were enlisted for thirty days service, so I suppose Chauncey Carr was out of the army by the end of August.

Our charge for copies is 10¢ per page, plus postage.

To Whom It May Concern:

This letter is in reference to research presently being conducted at Wabash College in relation to Wabash students that served in the Civil War. One such student, Chauncy R. Carr, was listed by the Wabash catalogue as having lived in Terre Haute during his tenure at Wabash, 1861 - 63. However, our present information on him is rather scanty and confusing. Any information of a basic nature would be greatly appreciated. Enclosed is a copy of the information we presently have on him.

Please note further that all expenses related to this search will be covered. Once again, your help in this matter would be greatly appreciated !

Carr, Chauncey R. MGB

Chauncey Carr's historical record is a bit confusing. We know that he attended the Wabash College prep school for two years between 1860-62 and was listed as a freshman in the 1862 catalog. However, the Terrell files show that a Chauncey R. Carr, a Terre Haute native like our man, enlisted in Co. I of the 76th Regiment on July 21, 1862 at Evansville. But the date of his discharge is unknown, other than the fact that his term had expired. Perhaps, like other Wabash students then, he spent the summer in the army - perhaps in a ninety-day unit - between school terms.

Although there was no apparent catalog reference to Carr after his freshman year, the Wabash Review magazine for June, 1866 said that Carr was the president of the class of '66. Further research on Carr could perhaps tie together these bits and pieces.

DIED.

In this city on the 28th of last month, at ten minutes before 12 o'clock P. M. Mrs. Mary, Consort of Moses. C. Carr aged forty years five months and eleven days.

The deceased was the daughter of the late John and Nancy Gunn, who removed from Kentucky to this county. Mrs. Carr was a kind and affectionate wife and mother, and her loss to her disconsolate husband and bereaved children, is indeed truly afflicting and irreparable. Among her friends and in the social walks of life the deceased was ever kind hearted and generous, and by her urbane manners and gentle disposition attached to her many devoted friends to whom, her premature decease, has left a void that can never be filled. Truly this is a sad dispensation of Providence and falls with an afflecting hand upon the heart stricken and lonely husband. His home is now desolate, for the voice that once greeted him is hushed forever, and the beloved wife of his bosom in whom, was concentrated all his happiness and his hopes, lies in the cold and silent grave. Sadness broods over his household and desolation has come upon him. Let him mourn as one not without hope, and with a firm reliance upon Him who has said, "in your afflictions I will comfort you," bow with submission to the irrevocable decree of the Almighty.

Funeral services were performed at the residence of her husband by the Rev. Mr. Jewit on last Tuesday morning, after which the remains were followed by many friends to her last resting place in Linton Township. There by her father, mother, and departed children her body reposes, whilst her pure spirit has gone to Heaven to enjoy forever more the full fruition of a Saviours love.

In this city on the 30th ult., Mrs. A. A. HARRISON, consort of B. M. HARRISON, Esq., after a lingering illness of many months by consumption.

Dear Miss Ross:

In the State Historical Library in Indianapolis, I ran across a book "Pound and Kester Families" by John E. Hunt, 1904. This book treats of the Pound and Kester Families of Vigo County.

The book also includes parts of the Carr family, of which I am a descendant. We believe that the writer was confused in part, and would like to contact a knowledgeable mamber of the Kester family still living in Vigo County (or elsewhere) with whom we might discuss the situation.

The part in question is Appendix C, page 585, where it states that John Carr and Moses Carr (who married Rebecca Kester, daughter of Daniel and Elizabeth (Carr) Kester) were brothers. To our knowledge, this is not correct. John Carr was a brother of Elizabeth (Carr) Kester, and an uncle of Moses Carr, who was a son of Thomas Carr. Also it says that John Carr married Naomi Smith. This is not correct. John Carr married Elizabeth Smith, the daughter of Reuben Smith, in Shelby County, Kentucky, 23 February 1804.

The two minor sons of Thomas Carr (who died in 1801) were Moses and Caleb, not Moses and John. Caleb never went to Vigo County, but rather went to Harrison County, Indiana, with the James Lemmon family, Mrs. Lemmon being Sarah Carr Lemmon.

At least that is the way we know it. We would surely like to contact someone in Vigo County who knows the Kester family history. If you can help us, we will be forever in your debt.

Very truly yours,

Walter Wayne Miller
